[redacted] Marian Czarnecki, in the office of Representative Clement J. Zablocki, called to say that the Congressman was most interested in obtaining information on the current situation in eastern Europe particularly Poland. Czarnecki said he had gotten a run down from the State Department and when he could not reach me he talked with [redacted] who said he would have nothing to add to what had been given Czarnecki by State. I advised Czarnecki that we would have nothing to add to the information they had received from State.
